

I recommend reading through the entire Bible once each year, and perhaps the New Testament a second time. You can read all sixty-six books of God's Word in twelve months merely by reading three chapters each day and five on the Lord's Day. You can read the New Testament in less than three months at this pace.

"My favorite plan involves reading in five places each day. I begin in Genesis (the Law), Joshua (History), Job (Poetry), Isaiah (the Prophets), and Matthew (the New Testament) and read an equal number of chapters in each section. A variation of this plan is to read in three places daily, starting in Genesis, Job, and Matthew, respectively. The three sections are roughly the same in length, so you will finish them all about the same time.

The great advantage of such a design is in its variety. Many who intend to read straight through the Bible become confused in Leviticus, discouraged in Numbers, and give up completely by Deuteronomy. But when you are reading in more than one place each day, it's easier to keep up the momentum." [From Donald S. Whitney, Spiritual Disciplines for the Christian Life (Colorado Springs: NavPress, 1991), page 34.]

Regardless of the plan you use or how long it takes you to read through the Bible, I hope you'll find this tool helpful for maintaining consistency in daily Scripture reading.
